

EPLERWOOD
INTERNATIONAL

Kathleen Ahamed-Broadhurst – Senior Research Consultant & Writer

Kathleen has her Master's in Sustainability and Environmental Management from Harvard University Extension School and her Bachelor's in History from University of Massachusetts Amherst. While at Harvard she concentrated on Environmental Policy and International Development with a focus on South East Asia. Her thesis Understanding Canals in Bangkok Using Historic Maps and GIS explored the ways in which urban development, waterways, and Buddhism interact in Bangkok, Thailand. She has a special interest in environmental history, GIS, urban planning and sustainable tourism.